Welcome

As the L&CPU AV Secretary may I extend to you all a very warm welcome to this, the annual Audio Visual competition, which is taking place for the first time 'on-line' via Zoom

On behalf of myself and the L&CPU Executive Committee may I sincerely thank our judge, Alastair Taylor from the Midland Counties PF, for kindly agreeing to judge this year's competition and for giving his constructive comments on each sequence. This year it has certainly been no mean task with a record 47 sequences having been entered.

It is with great pleasure that we also welcome the acting President of the L&CPU, James Hardy, to say a few words and officially open the competition - thank you.

Our thanks must also go to the Wilmslow Guild Audio Visual Group for their hosting of this competition and to Eric Davies for acting as a back-up on Zoom.

My special thanks goes to their Competition Secretary, Jill K Bunting, for downloading, checking and preparing all of the 47 entries for today's competition.

Last but certainly not least, my special thanks go to all the authors of the 47 sequences that have been entered into the competition - you are all winners!

Our Judge

Alastair Taylor has been enthusiastic about Audio Visual for many years having returned to the genre around 10 years ago.

He likes producing documentary style AVs and has gained both ARPS and CPAGB through the AV medium.

Alastair has enjoyed some degree of success in both regional national and international competitions and has judged various competitions including the Peter Coles International.

He is the Editor of the Royal Photographic Society's AV News magazine and has recently taken over the running of the Midland Counties AV Competition.

Our Hosts

The Wilmslow Guild Audio Visual Group are a friendly bunch - always willing to welcome new and prospective members and to try and ensure that they receive all the help and encouragement that they need.

As well as a full schedule of meetings they also run 1 to 1 sessions to help newcomers starting out in their hobby as well as advanced workers who may want help with a particular problem or technique.

They meet on a number of Friday evenings and you are welcome to attend your first meeting as a guest to meet the members and see just what they do

Have a look at their website: www.wilmslowguildav.org.uk
